

Break a Cold In Few Hours

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves the cold and gripe misery—Don't stay stuffed up!

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

"YANKEE BANTAM," BANK CLERK, LEFT A LEG IN FRANCE

One of the Irving Unit's Boys, Too Daring, Was a Boche Bullet's Victim.

Joseph Vincent Bond, Loan Clerk and Discount Teller with the Irving Trust Company prior to his enlistment in the 7th Regiment, is now recuperating in a hospital in France.

After having been in the front line trenches for nine strenuous days, and coming out unscathed, this little Yankee bantam was impatient to get another crack at "Jerry." After spending some days in a rest camp, Bond's company was sent up the line to put the finishing touches to the Boches, as he wrote in one of his last letters. In his anxiety to roll up a big score Joe forgot all about his personal safety, with the result that he was "spotted" by a Boche marksman, receiving a bad wound in his left leg, which necessitated the amputation of that member.

In the last letter sent by him from the front lines, Bond wrote his friend, Dick Gifford, a former national champion walker, that if he was unable to send any trophies home in aid of the Fourth Liberty Loan he would make up for it by bringing home the Kaiser's collar buttons or the family jewels. However, it now seems that Joe made a big sacrifice in his attempt to fulfill his desire.

While making his initial appearance on a battlefield, Bond was sent with others to a listening post, which he described as a hole in the ground. During the tense moments that passed, Joe said he had the fright of his young life. In the dark of the night, when a whisper spied death, a fine big specimen of trench rat took Bond's back for a running track, and the sensations that ran through the soldier's body are beyond imagination, and to "holer" meant death.

Bond is well known throughout the American forces in France, having been the subject of many verses by Dick Gifford which have found their way into the trenches.

Killed by a Taxicab.

A man believed to have been George J. Scott, sixty, of No. 90 Cannon Street, Bridgeport, Conn., from papers and a bankbook found in his possession, died in Knickerbocker Hospital last night from injuries he sustained when knocked down by a taxicab, owned and operated by Charles L. Gover of No. 23 East 74th Street, at Manhattan and 125th Streets. The chauffeur was locked up in the West 125th Street Station on a charge of homicide.

WOMEN PREVENT SALE OF GERMAN-MADE TOYS

Mrs. Field Heads Delegation to Shop, and Owner Readily Agrees to Ban Goods.

Mrs. Oliver Cromwell Field, President of the American Relief Legion, led a delegation of women to a shop on Eighth Avenue, near 43d Street, yesterday afternoon, when she heard that colored "sticker" pictures, a toy for children, which had been made in Germany, were being sold there.

The woman who owns the shop, Mrs. Lena Herndon, became very much disturbed when she was told by Mrs. Field that the women of America would not stand for the sale of anything that had been made by the hands of Germans, blood-stained with the murders of Belgian children. Mrs. Herndon said that she had bought them from a man who said that his name was August King, a general buyer, of No. 332 West 153d Street, and that she did not see the German mark on them.

Mrs. Herndon, who, with her husband, came from Russia twenty-three years ago, handed over all of the sheets which were unsold—about 450—and refused to take any money for them.

saying that she was glad to get rid of them. She gladly accepted one of the signs reading, "We Will Not Sell German Goods," which the Legion has printed, and hung it in the window of her small shop.

Richard M. Hurd, Chairman of the Lycoff Committee of the American Defense Society, has called a meeting for next Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce Building, No. 65 Liberty Street, for all patriotic and civic organizations interested in the movement to keep German toys from the hands of American children.

At the meeting of the Trustees of Columbia University yesterday announcement was made of one of the most significant benefactions in the entire history of the university. The Trustees of the New York Polyclinic Hospital, by unanimous vote, proposed to transfer the property of that institution to Columbia University, to be maintained and perpetuated for the public service and for advanced instruction and research in medicine and surgery.

The proposal is not to ally the two institutions, but to transfer the hospital to the university for public and university purposes.
